Arrangements Completed for Young Men's Conference Here This Week—Registration Must Be in By Wednesday Night.

The annual Young Men's Conference of the local Y. M. C. A. will be held in the rooms of the local Y. M. C. A. this week end. The conference program already arranged in one of the best that it is possible to secure.

William J. Reagan, principal of the Oakwood School of Poughkeepsie, and Dr. Clarence Hill Frank, are two of the best instructors of young men that can be found anywhere in the Hudson valley. These two men have been working together for weeks, dovetailing their addresses so that the conference will not be just a series of addresses, but a real conference.

Last Saturday afternoon, the discussion leaders, met with Mr. Reagan at Poughkeepsie, and went over the whole program, so that each man will know his part and how it will fit into the whole scheme of things. The discussion leaders are men of great experience in that type of work. They are F. O. Van Ness, boys' secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Poughkeepsie, E. V. Robbins, boys' secretary of Newburgh, E. K. Painter at Clintonville, and W. M. Blodgett, of the State Sunday School Association.

In the afternoon of Saturday an athletic meet and swimming contest will be held for the boys who come from out of town and notices have been sent to them to be sure and come prepared. The meet will be for both individual record and for group record as well. There is a possibility, time permitting, that a swimming contest will be held for the Kingston boys.

Registration for the conference must be in the hands of Chester Hall, at the Y. M. C. A. on Wednesday night. Any young man between the ages of 16 and 24 may register. Whether he is a member of the Y. M. C. A. or not. Registration cards may be secured from the office of the boys' division of the Y. M. C. A.

Registrations are coming in in excellent shape and it is the hope of the committee that by Wednesday evening the registration will have exceeded 100 boys and men.

Registrations have been received from Catskill, Kerhonkson, Saugerties and Clintonville.

The Ladies' Auxiliary will serve the banquet for the boys and Mrs. George DuBois, will have charge. There will be a large number of young men for whom it will be necessary to furnish entertainment over Friday night and serve breakfast on Saturday morning. Any person who would be willing to help the conference committee by providing this entertainment will confer a favor on the committee by calling Mr. Hall at 1190.

SAVINGS BANKS INVESTMENT BILLS PASSED IN SENATE

Albany, March 12 (AP).—Four bills designed to broaden the field of savings bank investments passed the senate today by a comfortable margin after minority leader Bernard Dowling had raised objection to the principles set forth in the measures. ## Knapp Case Moves Rapidly

Governor Smith Orders Extra Grand Jury at Ottinger's Request—Media About Ready for Presentation of Case.

Albany, N. Y., Mar. 12 (AP).—The case of former Secretary of State Florence E. S. Knapp moved rapidly toward a climax today as representatives of the attorney general's office prepared to present to a special grand jury, to be convened here on April 5, evidence on which the indictment of the first elected woman state official in New York will be sought in connection with her conduct of the 1925 state census.

An order directing convocation of the grand jury was issued yesterday by Governor Smith, who at the same time ordered an extraordinary term of supreme court, to be presided over by Justice Stephen H. Callaghan of Brooklyn. The move was made at the request of Attorney General Albert Ottinger in order to avoid presentation of the case at the present term of the Albany county grand jury.

George Z. Meddle, named by the attorney general to prosecute the case, announced today that he had decided upon what counts Mrs. Knapp's indictment would be sought, and that there remained only final whipping into shape of his plans for presentation of the case to the jury. He declined to indicate what the counts would be, but it was understood that they would not embrace all recommendations for criminal action made by Morland Act Commissioner Randall J. L. Boett, Jr., who last year investigated the case for Governor Smith.

The four recommendations for criminal action made by Le Boeuf involved grand larceny, forgery, removal and destruction of state records, and false audit and certification of payrolls. It was believed at the Capitol today that only the ones supported by the strongest evidence would be presented to the grand jury, in order to save time and expense in the prosecution of the case.

Hinchliffe Off For New York

London, March 12 (AP).—Mrs. Hinchliffe informed the Associated Press late today that she believed her husband was headed for New York.

Mrs. Hinchliffe thought when her husband started early today that he might be merely transferring his base to Ireland, but when informed of later developments she admitted the mystery flight was towards New York.

When hope was expressed by the Associated Press correspondent that her husband would strike fine weather, she remarked:

"I cannot hope it any more than I do. I am terribly anxious."

Mrs. Hinchliffe said her husband had not informed her direct that he was starting today, but his agent notified her in the afternoon that the Transatlantic flight had begun.

The meteorological office informed Mrs. Hinchliffe that Captain Hinchliffe had made inquiries about the Atlantic weather and was told that ocean conditions were fairly good.

Butler Would Not Take Bonds

Washington, March 12 (AP).—William M. Butler, chairman of the Republican National Committee, testified today at the Senate investigation that Will Hays met him late in 1922 in New York and attempted to have him accept a package which Butler said he was told contained $25,000 in bonds.

Butler said he turned down the proposition flatly. He testified Hays asked him to give a $25,000 contribution toward wiping out the 1920 campaign deficit, and did not disclose whom the bonds came from.

Butler said the package was not opened and that Hays took it away with him.

Fire Destroys Modena Station

The station of the Central New England railroad at Modena was razed by fire Sunday morning about 4 o'clock. ## Who Stabbed Abate's Horse Flatbush Avenue Incident Reported to Police That Someone Entered His Barn Monday Night and Stabbed Horse in Chest—Has No Enemies.

Who stabbed "Tommy", the horse owned by Rosario Abate of Flatbush avenue, in the chest on Monday evening? That is the question that Mr. Abate submitted to the local police for answer this morning when he called at police headquarters to report the stabbing.

According to Mr. Abate the stabbing must have occurred between 7 and 8 o'clock that evening. He and his family had gone to town and returned about 9 o'clock and he went out to the barn and found his horse very restless.

"What's the matter Tommy?" asked Mr. Abate as the animal arose to his feet. As "Tommy" is not a movie star he was unable to respond and Mr. Abate glanced him over but failed to notice the wound in the animal's chest.

This morning when Abate went out to the barn he discovered the wound which is thought to have been inflicted with a large butcher knife.

Mr. Abate informed the police that as far as he knew he had no enemies and is at a loss to explain the reason for stabbing the horse. Mr. Abate called Dr. Harold Clarke to attend to the animal and it is not thought that the wound will prove serious.

Mellon Refused $50,000 Bonds

Secretary Declares Will Hays Sent Him the Bonds From New York and That He Returned Them a Few Days Later.

Washington, March 12 (AP).—Secretary Mellon, called before the Senate Teapot Dome committee today, testified that Will Hays, Republican campaign manager in 1920, had attempted to have him accept $50,000 in Liberty Bonds and give a like subscription to the party because Hays did not want large donations, such as that of Harry F. Sinclair, to show on the records.

Mellon refused the bonds, he said, but he declared that at that time he knew nothing of the naval oil scandal, which has been pending for five years. He said Hays in 1923 had told him of a large subscription to the Republican party by Sinclair.

The secretary said Hays, a former postmaster general, sent him the $50,000 in bonds from New York. He took them to his home for safe-keeping, and a day or so later when Hays called on him, he told him he could not accept them, because the deal would not be what it purported to be.

A few days later he sent the bonds back to Hays in New York in the care of S. Parker Gilbert, then under secretary of the treasury and now agent general for German reparations.

On December 6, 1922, Mellon said he sent Fred W. Upland, treasurer of the Republican National Committee, a $50,000 check to be used in wiping out the committee's debt.

Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, committee prosecutor, reminded the treasury official that the Teapot Dome investigation had been in progress a month when Hays approached him regarding the bonds, but the witness said he could not keep pace with the Senate's investigations.

$ Bargains; Also Specials

Wednesday is Dollar Day uptown and all of the Uptown Merchants are cooperating to make the sale the most successful ever held here.

The sale Wednesday will be on a much broader scale than in the past for there will be special values offered at higher prices which will include wearing apparel, furniture, rugs, shoes, etc., which customers will find marked at proportionate prices.

Some customers, who only hastily read the story of the sale in Monday's issue of The Freeman have been "razzing" some of the merchants good naturedly about it, but if they had read the story carefully they would have found that the Dollar Day sale would include many bargains beside the Dollar items that will be offered in profusion.

Careful buyers wishing to save on the family budget would do well to read the advertisements of the Uptown Merchants that will be found in tonight's issue for in addition to the Dollar items they will find real bargains on higher priced articles.

Yesterday she had appeared at a lake refreshment stand, and this morning when the proprietor opened up for business he found her purse with $37 in it and a note indicating that she intended to kill herself. ## Los Angeles Aqueduct Breaks, Hundreds Perish

St. Francis Dam in San Francisquito Canyon Crashes, Sweeping to Death More Than A Hundred Persons—Fear Death Toll Might Reach 400—Property Damage Tremendous—Heavy Rains and Not Earthquake Blamed for Collapse.

Los Angeles, March 12 (AP).—More than 100 persons were swept to death early today in San Francisquito Canyon, north of here, when the St. Francis Dam, impounding part of the Los Angeles water supply, burst and unleashed a 75 foot wall of water into the narrow valley.

Officials expressed fear that the death toll might reach 400. A telegram received at the sheriff's office here from Eugene Biscailuz, under sheriff in charge of the rescue work, said that 100 bodies had been recovered where the flood waters entered the Santa Paula and Santa Clara rivers.

Ten bodies were taken from the canyon this morning and were placed in a morgue at Saugus.

Newhall, Cal., March 12 (AP).—William Bright, in charge of the sheriff's squad assigned to police and rescue work in the St. Francis Dam disaster, estimated today that between 200 and 500 persons lost their lives when the dam went out.

After a hurried survey of the situation, Bright declared his belief that few, if any of the ranchers, power workmen and power station employees in St. Francisquito Canyon, the site of the dam, had escaped. The total number of persons living in the upper canyon he placed at 500.

At 5:30 a. m., three bodies, all unidentified, had been recovered. Red Cross workers were on the scene early, sent from Los Angeles. They prepared blankets and other comforts for refugees.

Bright recruited between 500 and 600 deputy sheriffs who were rushed into the district early to preserve order and aid in rescue work.

Bright told Red Cross workers he believed there would be little use for blankets and other comforts, as he felt certain that practically all inhabitants of San Francisquito Canyon had perished.

Advices from Saugus, in the vicinity of the break, said that a 12-year-old girl and baby, members of the Holschau family, living in the canyon, had been swept to death. Immediately below the dam was a camp of the Southern California Edison Company, headquarters for 75 workmen, and fears were expressed that these had been caught.

Scattered along the upper canyon in the path of the water were approximately 25 families. Sheriff's office at Newhall believed that some or all of these might have been caught in their sleep by the flood and carried away.

Attributed Break to Quake. The first report of the disaster, which came from linemen of the Southern California Telephone Company, working below San Francisquito Canyon, attributed the dam break to an earthquake.

However, no tremors were reported from any other localities. It was believed in several quarters that the dam had given away under the pressure of approximately 1,344,000,000 gallons of water behind it.

Aside from the loss of life, the collapse of the St. Francis Dam crippled an important link in the city of Los Angeles water system and released a big unit of stored water accumulated through the winter for summer use.

One power house dependent on the dam went out of commission, travel along the scenic ridge route through southern California was menaced, bridges of the Southern Pacific Railway were washed out, and heavy loss was expected in the citrus groves and small farms of the district.

Heavy Rains Blamed. A preliminary survey today indicated according to Los Angeles city officials, that water sweeping through a hill supporting the west wing of the St. Francis Dam had caused the structure to collapse. Previous reports were that the dam gave way as the result of an earthquake.

Previous assertions that the dam was broken by a slight earthquake were discounted by William Mulholland, Los Angeles city engineer. Mulholland said the slit washed down by recent heavy rains had packed against the retaining wall and forced it out.

The seepage was believed to have caused a portion of the hill flanking the western end of the dam to give away. The water then poured through the breach and, under the pressure, the eastern wing collapsed next. The center section of the 155 foot dam wall was reported to be still standing for a distance of 150 feet.

1,000 Policemen Will Help. Los Angeles, March 12 (AP).—Chief of Police James E. Davis left Wednesday or Thursday.

Grand Jury Finishing Work

The grand jury in attendance at the March term of Supreme court will probably complete its duties Wednesday afternoon or Thursday. District Attorney Traver has brought several matters to the attention of the grand jury and it is expected that all matters will be cleared up unless some unforeseen development prevents the report being presented to the court on Wednesday or Thursday.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

By The Associated Press.

New York—Miss Elizabeth Wyatt, whose social position is of the highest—she is a descendant of the Van Rensselaer family—is a professional dancer. She made her debut in January and is now on the road in the ballet of a musical comedy, refusing an allowance and living on what she earns.

Glasgow—Miss Olga De la Barra, 22, first foreigner to receive the degree of doctor of philosophy from Glasgow University has been appointed Chilean vice consul for Scotland. Her father is the consul. The Chilean Government appointed her because she made good as her father's substitute when he took a vacation.

Wildwood, N. J.—A coast guard officer was mighty curious as to a hullo-graph message flashed over the sea waves: "I love you Daddy dear." Suspecting it might be rum runners' code, he questioned Mrs. Arthur Blerins, who was out in a little boat busy with her vanity bag mirror and the sun's rays. She explained that she was the bride of an engineer on a lightship in the offing; that regulations prevented women going aboard.

New York—No takers are expected. The American Master Hair Dressers' Association offers $5,000 to the American girl who proves that she is surpassingly beautiful and got lost any without compromise of other facts.

Wartaw—Rabbi Meir Yeciel, who for 40 years or more ate only on Saturdays and went to bed in his clothes, is dead at 74. His theory was that life should not be enjoyed. He never ate except when his religion prescribed it. He sought to make his sleep uncomfortable.

Chicago—The country's second city consumes the most peanuts—a trail load a day, more than half the country's consumption. Few of them are eaten; most are used in making other things.

New York—The country's first city uses the most hot dogs. Some 79,000 were eaten at the recent six-day bike race, more than four times the number of bags of peanuts.

The quartermaster general says the army now has one horse or mule for every 3.3 soldiers, and we really ought to get a Shetland pony for that 3.3 fellows down in the last squad.

About the height of fertility would be to go down to the shop six weeks later and look for the fellow who inherited $1,500,000 and said he guessed he would keep right on working.

England is said to be preparing this early "for the next eclipse of the sun to be visible in that land 37 years hence." What a joke it would be on the English if the sun were to change its mind! And would the English see the joke?

Mace Has Long Been Symbol of Authority

An interesting bit of ceremony takes place each day as the house of representatives convenes. A distinguished individual enters the chamber and walks slowly to the front, bearing aloft the mace, which the house maintains as its symbol of power. At the speaker's stand he turns to the right and fastens the staff on that side of the platform. It is an official announcement that the house of representatives is now in session and vested with the power to transact legislative business.

The mace resembles a flagpole capped by a gleaming metal eagle. Its keeper's sole duty is to appear twice on the floor of the house on days when it is in session, bringing the mace to when the body convenes, and when it adjourns, carrying it back to the office of the sergeant-at-arms with the same deliberate step. The only time during a day of business when the mace is removed before adjournment is when the house goes into committee of the whole to consider some piece of specific legislation. When it is officially in legislative session again the mace is returned.

Modern Sweden Not Believer in "Souls"

The journalist hunting for the soul of modern Sweden returns with a yawningly empty bag. Nobody will give him the shadow of an encouragement to discover great things maturing in the bosom of this quiescent country, ready to burst forth and astonish the world.

"No," they say, "here we are poked away high up in a corner of Europe right off all the spiritual and material highways. As if to enhance our isolation, all our great powers go and wage a war of extermination for five years, so that your new generation have grown up amid the clash of arms and the odor of blood, while we were doing business as usual, or rather, far better than usual—though we managed to drop most of the proceeds a few years later with the German mark." "And now you come and ask us to be exciting and interesting. We are not. We are upright, worthy, well-fed, humane, intellectually adequate northerners. The soul of Sweden? Fiddlesticks! We don't believe in souls."—Manchester Guardian (Living Age).

OFFICE CAT

A LADY
She brushed her lips with a soft tissue. And her cheeks with the soft same tissue. And her eyes were weighted down with long lashes. And were painted a curious blue. She fastened her skirts and rolled down her hose. And her garters were purple and green. She unrolled her hair and powdered her hair. And walked with the air of a queen. She plucked out her eyebrows and made them more like. And powdered them till they were black. And then she may tell from all of these signs. That Jill was out looking for Jack.

WHIZ: Did you ever march into battle to the stirring strains of a march?

BANG: Yes, I think they played a march the day I married.

We can't remember that a single prediction that the world would end on a certain date ever came true.

I just found out the other night from my boy friend what makes cream cost more than milk. He said the smaller bottles are harder for the cows to fill. It's wonderful what that boy knows!

The more we observe earnest efforts in this direction, the more thoroughly we are convinced that it is a practical impossibility for anyone weighing over 140 pounds to look cute.

Mr. Newlywed: "This steak tastes queer."

Wife: "I can't understand it, dear. I did burn it a little but I rubbed vasoline on it right away!"

There's a man in Kingston who claims a distinction. "I am not the president, vice president or secretary of any organization," he says.

Apple sauce for the goose is sauce for propaganda.

If a girl pays $2.00 for a pair of stockings, she can hardly be blamed for wanting to show $1.95 worth of them.

Education long since became too cheap to be appreciated.

Tommy: "We've got a new gas heater at our house."

May: "Huh! We don't need any gas. My mother just turns on the water and holds her hand under it a minute, and it runs hot!"

Reporter: "The name of that man on the west side who was struck by lightning is Grzinslawski." City Editor: "What was his name before he was struck by lightning?"

Brain Exerciser.

A farmer had eight gallons of milk. A restaurant keeper wanted just four gallons. The farmer had the milk in varying amounts in three containers, i. e., one eight gallon can, a five gallon and a three. How did he give the man an exact measure of the four gallons?

Mrs. Bridley (at 1 A. M.): "Oh, Jack, wake up! I can just feel there's a mouse in the room." Husband (drowsily): "Well, just feel that there's a cat, too, and go to sleep."

"Keep On Keepin' On."
"If the day looks kinder gloomy
And your chances kinder slim,
If the situation's puzzlin'
And the prospect's awful grim,
And perplexities keep pressin'
Till all hope is nearly gone:
Just bristle up and grit your teeth,
And keep on keepin' on!"

As a general thing the man who saves up for a rainy day winds up by investing in a sedan.

Fowler, the Rev. Henry H. Howard, Judge Florence E. Allen of Ohio, Judge V. C. Mott, of the International Y. V. C. A. and others. The song leader will be Jerry S. Foster of Washington, who is widely known among C. E. workers throughout the state.

Income Tax in a Nutshell

TIPS FOR TAXPAYERS.

No. 26.
Deductions for depreciation form an important item in the returns of many taxpayers.

In claiming a deduction for depreciation several fundamental principles must be observed. The deduction must be confined to property actually used in trade, business, profession, or vocation. In general, it applies to the taxpayer's capital assets—buildings, machinery, etc.—the cost of which can not be deducted as a business expense. A building or machine gradually becomes old and worn out. On account of this depreciation the value of such assets is decreased. A loss is thereby sustained, for which the taxpayer is entitled to recognition in making his return of income.

Depreciation may be claimed on all business property, which includes not only buildings and machinery of a permanent character, but automobiles, farm tractors, mine and mill equipment, office furniture, and books.

"Yes, sir, whoever fried this chicken must have devoted a lifetime to learning how!"

And maybe she didn't at all. Maybe she just remembered to let it brown slowly in a bit of Snowdrift. And covered it and let it steam for an hour in rich tasty Snowdrift-and-chicken gravy.

Snowdrift is so fine and delicate, it never interferes with that delicious chicken flavor, just makes it richer. Every fried food tastes better when you use Snowdrift. And there's no smoke in the kitchen and no odor about the Snowdrift afterward—you can use it ever so many times if you strain it carefully.

CAUSES OF SLEEPLESSNESS.

Although the actual cause or causes of sleep are still under question, nevertheless the soundness or intensity of sleep has been investigated by different research men, and the findings are all in agreement. The experiments were made by using sounds whose degree of loudness or softness could be measured, and seeing at what hour or time it was most difficult to arouse the individual after he went to sleep. They found that there was a rapid increase in the soundness or intensity of sleep during the first two hours, which reached its highest point between the first and second hours, and then dropped very rapidly again, so that by the third hour the patient was very near the waking stage again.

Now this knowledge is worth something to the individuals who find that they get off into a sound sleep, and then "in the middle of the night" as they call it, find themselves awake. It would appear that the sense of hearing is the most easily aroused of all the senses, and it is only good sense therefore when you are in a strange city or in a strange room or surroundings where the noises will be "different" to those to which you are accustomed, to put some absorbent cotton in the ears before you retire. By rolling the absorbent you can get it to fit snugly into the ear canal. And of course if when you wake, you begin to worry about being awake, or about things you should have done, or should not have done, if fear and anxiety assail you, then sleep is likely to flee from you. Because aside from the sense of hearing and touch which so easily awaken you, the emotions stimulate the heart to increased action, the blood pressure is raised, and more blood is of course circulating throughout the brain.

Dr. E. M. Callender gives a list of the causes of sleeplessness which may interest you.

"A very early supper, a very late supper, too much alcohol, too much tobacco, tea or coffee late in the evening, overwork or working until near bedtime, sleeping in a room which is too hot, too badly ventilated, or too cold, lying with head too low and perhaps in some cases too high, wearing too much clothing at night, being overburdened with bedclothes, or being too cold."

The point then is to look over the above list and if unable to locate the cause of your sleeplessness consult your doctor.

Anybody can take medicine to relieve sleeplessness, but that should be the last resort and then only under your doctor's directions. Drugs depress certain impulses in the brain, and sleep follows, but Nature will depress these same impulses if given a chance.

DAILY LESSONS IN ENGLISH

WORDS OFTEN MISUSED: Do not say "we connected the ends together." "Together" is redundant.

OFTEN MISPRONOUNCED: Deplorable; or as in "no," not as in "nor."

OFTEN MISSPELLED: Legerdemain.

SYNONYMS: Admire, approve, covet, crave, desire, esteem, like, love, relish.

WORD STUDY: "Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Today's word: PARADOXICAL: of the nature of something apparently absurd or incredible, yet true. "He was a brilliant and paradoxical talker."

The thrift movement had its inception in Scranton, Pa., in 1914. The first thrift week celebration took place in Bradford, Ohio, the following year. The national thrift committee was organized in 1917 under the strain of the war conditions.

WHY

Men and Women First Dressed Garments

How came people to wear clothes? Was it because of modesty? Or immaturity, to make the body more mysterious and alluring? Or for adornment, or for protection from the elements? Each of these theories has been advanced. Now Dr. Knight Doolap, professor of psychology in Johns Hopkins University, offers a new explanation, Notes Popular Science Monthly. Primitive men and women first took to clothes, he says, to ward off flies and similar pests.

"Crawling and flying pests are with primitive man abundantly and very annoyingly," he says. "The most efficient protection is afforded by hanging strings, leaves, animal's tails, and similar articles that flap with the movement of the wearer. The first protections used on domestic animals are exactly of the types of primitive human clothing which have baffled the anthropologists."

"Clothing itself is neither modest nor immodest," he added. "Any degree of clothing, as well as nudity, is perfectly modest when we become used to it."

Why Hearing Apparatus Varies in Many Ways

The hearing apparatus of animals is like that of human beings, but modified to suit the conditions of the animal's life. Deer, hares and hares, like all animals whose life necessitates keen hearing, have ears shaped and set in the best way to catch faint or far-off sounds. The snake has no eardrums. The ear of the fish is a membranous labyrinth connected with the bladder by a series of little bones. Though the sense of hearing is perfect only in the higher animals, even the animals that have no ears perceive sounds. Instead of ears they are supplied with fine nerve whose function is to note and to respond to every touch; nerves whose receiving centers are different from the centers of the purely tactile impressions. All animals, including insects, have an apparatus which enables them to distinguish the approach of an enemy.

Why Called Marines

The word "marine" is derived from the old French word "marin," meaning "sea soldier." The United States Marine corps is an independent branch of the military service, and, though under the direction of the Navy department, may be detailed by order of the President for service with the army. The duties assigned to the Marine corps are to garrison the navy yards and naval stations and the defenses erected for their protection; to furnish to all battleships and cruisers and other vessels, when necessary, a detachment for guard duty and also to assist in the handling of the ships' guns. A mobile force is also always held in readiness at the Marine barracks as the first line for foreign service when the occasion may arise.

Why Termed Slush Fund

A slush fund is a political campaign fund collected for the purpose of influencing public opinion by improper means. The term originated in the British navy. It was formerly customary on war vessels to sell slush, and other refuse in the ships in order to raise a fund to pay for small luxuries and pleasure of the men, relates Punch Magazine. Slush is a soft mixture of grease and other materials used for lubrication and protection of wood, especially masts and spars. In time the term "slush fund" came to be applied to a fund obtained by selling all worn-out equipment and kitchen refuse from a military camp or war vessel. The political application of the term is quite recent.

Why Toad Swallows Skin

It is a well-known fact that the common toad molts or sheds its outer skin several times a year. The skin is swallowed by the toad after it is sloughed. What part this peculiar phenomenon plays in the economy of nature is somewhat of a mystery. The United States biological survey thinks the swallowing of the skin is merely incidental to shedding. Toads, says that authority, are rather clumsy in their actions and movements; apparently they swallow the sloughed skin in their efforts to free themselves from the incumbrance.

"Blue-Blooded" People

There is, of course, no "blue blood," but the term, generally used in a complimentary sense as denoting gentle birth, does really hark back to color origin. Not of blood, though. The reference is to the color of the veins. Families who through several generations possessed sufficient wealth to enable them to engage manual work developed skins of a very fine texture, and through the latter the veins showed blue. That would be especially apparent in the hands and forearms. The skins of those who, unblest with wealth, had to work became hard, and the veins were hardly discernable.

Thus, although "blue-veined" or "blue-skinned" would have been more correct, the term "blue-blooded" came late use to denote the aristocracy, and it would seem, from old writings, that it was the popular belief that the term expressed the literal fact.—Kansas City Times.

Siamese River Gardens

In most eastern countries the rivers run low during the nonrainy period of the year, to such an extent that islands of mud and silt appear in many places. These are often cultivated, their harvest being gathered before the flood stage of the river occurs.

In the north of Siam, near the border town of Chienmai, the many little islands that make their appearance in the river Me Ping are cultivated by the inhabitants as vegetable gardens, says the Wide World magazine.

Little lookout sheds are constructed from which the owners keep watch of their crops. Scarcely an inch of space is wasted by these industrious folk, and several kinds of European vegetables are grown. When the river rises again, all these carefully tilled gardens disappear.

Why Ship Reaches Bottom

If an object heavier than water is dropped into deep water it will go on down. The question is brought up after nearly every shipwreck and was the subject of much discussion in 1912, after the Titanic was sunk. The views of physicists seem to confirm the experience of marine explorers that there is no ground for the belief that objects heavier than water are held in suspense at a definite pressure level or floor.

Why Birds Nest in North

It is not known for certain why birds go north to nest, but it is supposed by some scientists that birds originated in the Arctic regions when these regions were tropical in climate and that the going north each year is merely a hangover instinct.

Why Hair Is White

Hair goes white, according to scientists, because the white corpuscles in the blood eat up the pigments which color the hair. This often has a good effect, as the system is relieved of the work of making the pigments.

ALWAYS AT WARDetective Studies History and Finds Ancient Had Same Problems.

New York.—Between "cops" and crooks no love is lost. They heartily detest each other. They are natural enemies and cannot be otherwise. Cops look upon criminals as chronic troublemakers who cause them unnecessary work, loss of sleep and a hundred other ills. Were it not for the pestiferous crooks, cops urge, life would be much more pleasant than it is.

"I suppose they will be eternally with us," lamented a detective. "I have been reading history, and the ancients were plagued with them as well as we. They had highbrow and lowbrow crooks in ancient times. The small fry contented themselves with waylaying wealthy citizens on the highways, robbing their estates and picking the pockets or trunks of honest citizens who were seeking amusement in circus, theater or forum.

"The big crooks looted treasures much in the same manner as banks are looted today. And some of the big generals of those days permitted their soldiers to help themselves to the gold and silver plate of the residences of conquered plutocrats. In biblical times they had the old Mosaic laws of 'an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth.' Yet the severity of these laws did not stop murder and rapine. What chance, then, as Dickens would say, have we for putting down crime?"

The attitude of the crook toward the cop is just as uncompromising. He has a real hatred for policemen. He, nevertheless, stands in great fear and awe of them. Realizing that the policeman has the law on his side, the crook feels he cannot openly show his contempt and hatred. Accordingly, he keeps his feelings to himself and does not dare air his views publicly. He permits the cop to abuse him, growl at him and be rough with him, realizing that his arch-enemy has the upper hand.

Goes Meekly Along.

When the cop invites the crook to accompany him to the station house to talk things over, he goes along meekly enough. He knows that he is a suspect and that he is in for an unpleasant hour or so. He also knows from experience it is useless to argue or expostulate. He is as "nice as pie" and is on his good behavior. Once in the station he is introduced to other policemen. Perhaps he has met one or two of them before under similar circumstances. They do not greet him very cordially, as they would an actor-friend, a ball player or a business acquaintance who has dropped in for a little chat with the boys. He pretends not to notice their coldness and sits down in their midst.

If they crack crude jokes at his expense, he laughs as heartily as any of them, as if he really enjoyed their joshing. Having had long experience with cops, he realizes it will not help him to show unfriendliness or resentment. He flatters himself he is a pretty good judge of human nature, and if he can make them good-natured he feels he will not have half so bad a time of it as he would if he permitted his real feelings in respect to them to come to the surface.

All the time he is studying them closely, speculating on how much they have on him. They ask him many leading questions in an attempt to draw him out, and in answering them he tries to make it plain that he really doesn't know half as much about the crime as they think he does. It is a good deal a battle of wits between them and him. If he is guilty or has guilty knowledge of the crime in question, they are usually astute enough to discover it and

Dog Carries Food to*Another Dog in Trap

Little Rock, Ark.—"Peggy," a young German police dog of Gentry, Ark., is heralded here as a first-class good Samaritan. Recently "Barry," a police dog owned by C. G. Tysart of Gentry, disappeared from home and was missing for several days, although she had a family of eight small puppies. While searching for his dog Mr. Tysart stopped at the filling station operated by Roy Smith, owner of "Peggy," a niece of "Barry," and Smith told him of the peculiar actions of his dog. He said "Peggy" had been noticed on several occasions carrying bones to a strip of woods near the house.

When the two men started to investigate they met "Peggy" returning from the woods. She wheeled about and led them to a spot where a trapper had set out a steel trap, and "Barry" was found with a foreleg fastened in the trap. "Peggy" had been carrying food to her runt. "Barry" expressed her pleasure when released, but did not linger long. Hopping off on three feet she made a bee line for home and puppies.

WHY BALD?

Many men who are bald are not aware of the fact that they are losing their hair. The hair is falling out because of the action of the glands. The hair is falling out because of the action of the glands. The hair is falling out because of the action of the glands.

When the Indians Wanted Hot Water

When the Indian squaw wanted hot water for any purpose at all it was a slow and tedious process to procure it. Large stones had to be heated over a fire and then dropped into the container of water. In this way the water became heated—but at best it usually was only tepid. Only small quantities could be prepared at a time.

Modern science has replaced the primitive methods used by the squaw. Today a gas storage water heater installed in the home keeps quantities of water stored up hot in an insulated tank, ready to flow forth at the turn of the faucet for every household task. Installed for $75 cash.

obtain from him the information, in whole or in part, that they are after.

To Squeal or Not to Squeal.

"I suppose," said a detective, grilling a suspect in a speakeasy murder, "that the reason you can sit there and tell one lie after another is that you hold to the silly code of the underworld that you should not 'squeal on a pal' and rather than do so you would go to the chair and 'burn' it need be."

"I would not take any friend's guilt for him," the gangster protested. "I told you the truth when I told you I was not present when the crime was committed. As for this code of honor among thieves that you speak of, I'll admit my record ain't none too clean, that I'm a crook if you like, but I wouldn't put my neck in jeopardy for my own brother."

In trying to ferret out underworld crimes the police frequently have to go on "fishing expeditions," as they call them. By rounding up suspicious characters and questioning them painstakingly they are often able to get at the bottom of the affair. And they can only do this by bringing to the station house many witnesses and questioning all of them. This they do by separating all of those under suspicion, taking them aside one by one and obtaining a statement from each in turn.

If any of the suspects have guilty knowledge of the crime the police are pretty sure to find it out sooner or later, and when they have once succeeded in breaking the ice there are usually able to get at the truth. But it requires time and patience, and instead of being a matter of hours it is often a matter of days or weeks. A peculiarity of crooks is that few of them can be convincing, and when their morale is once broken down they go all to pieces.

Brings Better Health to Thin-Blooded Folks

NEWEST DISCOVERY
HEMO-LIVER

A big 12 ounce bottle of Hemo-Liver sells for $2.00—this would be a high price for a patent medicine, but Hemo-Liver is not a patent medicine.

It contains the red blood making vital element of vitamins extracted from beef livers and is an expensive formula to produce.

But what matters the price to any thin blooded, weak, rundown man or woman when every druggist in America is authorized to return the purchase price if one bottle (8 days treatment) doesn't prove to you that Hemo-Liver will restore to you the rich red blood cells your frail body is starving for and bring back health, vitality, energy and old time ambition in fullest measure.

Beef liver is full of red blood making vitamins, eat plenty of it. You can get Hemo-Liver at Mc Bride's (3) Stores.

The 5 Great Hazards

"It has been in this house fifty years. You can't find another piece like it. This, ladies and gentlemen, is genuine! What am I offered for it? These old treasures are going for a song. Give me a bid."

—As the auctioneer rattles on, the neighbors think of the old days of entertainment and open hospitality in that house. They wonder how long the proud and lonely mistress has been fighting off the inevitable.

WHILE presenting our Annual Statement showing Assets of $2,388,647,636—2 Billion, 388 Million Dollars—representing savings and investments of 25 million people in the United States and Canada, the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company desires to make clear what a life insurance company can do, what it should do and what, so far, it has been unable to do toward meeting what have been called the five great hazards of life:

Death
which may come early, before one's dependents have been provided for.

Accident
always sudden and often causing lessened earning power.

Sickness
which may cause want as well as suffering.

Dependent Old Age
which must seek charity if self-support is no longer possible.

Unemployment
which may bring distress to others in addition to the one unemployed.

Annuitants for old age, protection in case of death, accident or sickness—almost every financial requirement can now be met by insurance. Only one problem is still unsolved—unemployment insurance—and that only because legislation permitting it has so far been refused. The day must come when every family can and will plan to meet every one of the five great hazards so that none of its members will ever face the need of charity.

The United States and Canada pay higher wages than other countries. Nearly all their workers earn enough to provide for both present and future needs. If they will but plan ahead they may have in their years of retirement, not merely bare existence, but real comfort.

Thousands of those interested in life insurance have asked how the family income should be expended. Send for our Home Budget Booklet which tells how much should be spent for necessities, food, housing, clothing, fuel—and how much should be laid aside for protection. It will be mailed free.

Watkins Returns From Europe

Oscar A. Watkins, a member of the firm of S. Cohen's Sons, clothing, has recently returned from Europe, where he placed orders for shirting, and is now in the men's wear, under publication published in the interest of the men's furnishing business.

Chicago, Ill.—Oscar A. Watkins, head of the shirt department of Wilson Brothers, who recently returned from Europe, states that he placed a record order for foreign shirtings, together with many confined orders from American mills, will result in 50 to 75 per cent of their patterns for fall being exclusive. The fall line will open in April, and in this connection Mr. Watkins expresses the belief that the shirts will represent 40 per cent of the fall volume. English, French and French shirtings were higher than a year ago, says Watkins, but not out of proportion to the increase in domestic and Egyptian yarns. In Vienna, he found prices considerably higher and decided to buy until they were adjusted, which was done. He sees a tendency toward madras and away from broadcloths in fancy shirts. A number of fine French madras were among the purchases. In general, the fall shirtings of Wilson Brothers will be characterized by a liberal amount of jacquard figures, covered grounds and small neat effects, but rather brilliant colors. The figures heretofore were relatively large and the stripes heavy, but for fall they will be small and closer together. Blue, green, tan, coral and red are the outstanding colors in the fall shirtings which Wilson Brothers ordered. Mr. Watkins says that in the fall pajama line of Wilson Brothers a new tendency will be combinations of broadcloth and saten in very fine cloths, adding that this will be the most elaborate line of pajamas the firm has ever exhibited. It will be shown in April and will include many striking patterns and colorings, in which section he expresses the belief that novelty pajamas will be popular for a long time in the United States. It is noted that the craze for novelty pajamas was in all probability conceived in Europe and is continuing very popular there. Mr. Watkins predicts that the average price of pajamas will continue to increase, especially where great care is taken in tailoring and construction and good taste is shown in designing. He adds that with the introduction of attractive novelties, the consumer shows greater interest, and this is increasing the average price.

Paris is adding interest to the problem of selecting new clothes to wear. The new fashions have entered the arena. Perhaps it is wiser to say that with the new, re-appear some old favorites. Shantung, for instance, is a timely consideration in the intense interest women feel in sports clothes. The Shantung sports skirt, obligingly full, has appeared, as has the Shantung dress, and dresses of narrow striped silk of white on color. More for sports seems a curious choice, but it is one to be considered, as is also the return of printed flannels of pique, and of silk and woolen stuffs that are light weight, often in a small, interesting design, and dyed, perhaps, with white. FIERCE Klieg lights blazing down, drenching the stars' skin with light—the camera mercilessly recording! Only exquisitely smooth skin—"studio skin"—can defy the cruel lights of the close-up which permit of very little make-up.

Smooth, exquisite skin is essential for popularity, leading motion picture directors declare.

Every star in Hollywood knows that smooth, velvety skin means even more to her than it does to most women—it means her very career. How she guards it! Nine out of ten screen stars use Lux Toilet Soap!

It cares for their skin the true French way. For this lovely, white, fragrant soap is made by the method France developed and uses for her finest toilet soaps.

And the great film companies, following their stars' example, have made Lux Toilet Soap the official soap in their studio dressing rooms. Beauty is important in Hollywood!

You, too, will be delighted with the velvety bloom of your skin when Lux Toilet Soap cares for it. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

Detective Says He Saw Girl Get Into Kennell Car

But Was Not Close Enough to Identify the Woman—Mrs. Kennell Became Suspicious When Husband Became Cold Toward Her.

In order to complete the direct testimony in the Harry Kennell murder case, Judge Staley continued court Monday afternoon until 5 o'clock. At that time the direct testimony was given by two witnesses who had been called in by the plaintiff. Monday afternoon's session opened with Mr. Kennell, the defendant, being placed on the stand.

Mr. Rider denied that he had ever done anything to cause a break in relations between his daughter and his son-in-law. He said that he had hired detectives to follow his son-in-law but it was at the request of his daughter after she became suspicious of her husband. Two operatives from an Albany agency were hired and on October 14, 1928, reported to Mr. Rider. He said he told them they wanted to see his daughter and they interviewed her and later took up trailing the plaintiff.

He told of his daughter bringing a divorce action but the case was dismissed.

Worked With Detectives.
The day following the arrival of detectives they picked up the trail of Kennell at his home and followed him to the village. They were in a car and Mr. and Mrs. Rider and Mrs.

Kennell were in another car. Mr. Kennell said he worked with the detectives and later at eight saw Kennell's car coming from the direction of Kingston. As the car passed, he saw someone in the car with Kennell, but he could not see who it was or whether it was a man or woman. He failed to follow the car far and never saw who was in the car. Later he called at the Dasher home on Barclay Heights.

Later Mr. Rider said he and his family returned home and took with them Trooper Carson. Kennell came almost immediately and he then told Kennell he could not say there any more. He said he did not inform Kennell why. Mr. Rider said he was afraid of Kennell, he was afraid he would say a word. He denied that he had ever refused to allow his daughter to talk with her husband.

Mrs. Rider was called and testified practically the same as her husband in regard to important facts. She did not see who was in the car on the evening of October 15. She never knew.

It was testified that Mr. Rider had paid half of the wages which Kennell received when he worked in the Kennell garage at Saugerties during the winter following the marriage. Mr. Rider said he had tried to put Kennell in business but Kennell was cold to the proposition.

Saw Woman Get In Car.

Frank A. Colville, operator, who trailed plaintiff was called. He said he was an automobile mechanic by trade but worked as a private investigator at times. He with an assistant were on the Kennell case. He said he picked Kennell up on the evening of October 15 and followed him through the village. Kennell went into a clothing store and then crossed the bridge on the main highway and turned immediately left. He followed. Kennell went up the road and stopped at a driveway. The detective said he lost his man but later picked him up and saw a young woman get in the car. She was waiting along the road. After picking up the woman who was described by the detective as a woman 5 feet 5 1/2 inches in height with black hair, apparently bobbed and something white about her neck, the Kennell car was driven toward Kingston. Again the detective lost his man in the fog. He returned to Saugerties and with the Riders waited the return. The detective said he was not close enough to the two to identify the woman. His partner who was with him on the job could not now be located.

Later Kennell came back and drove down a "washout" road and came back on the main road. At that time the detectives and the Riders were on the Dasher porch. Kennell stopped and then went on. After that they all returned home.

Mr. Keller was called and testified to Kennell's working for him at his garage. Florence DuMont was called. She was at the Rider house some time after the Kennell's separated and heard a conversation about the furniture.

Became Suspicious.

Gladys W. Kennell, wife of plaintiff was called. She said she had never become suspicious of her husband until a few weeks prior to the actual break. She had heard things of his going out with women and asked him about it but he denied it. Later after a fishing trip she became suspicious. Once when she asked him about money which they had, he replied that he was "keeping a woman" when she asked him what had become of some of it. She finally became suspicious and asked her father's advice about getting a detective. She said her father and mother never told her to leave Kennell. During their married life they lived together for a time happily but in January she noticed a change in him. After that there were quarrels but outwardly they appeared to be happy. That summer she became suspicious after hearing that he was going out with a woman named Tubby. Her parents never refused her permission to speak with her husband or tried to keep them apart.

Mrs. Kennell said that Miss Minna Dasher had passed the car on the evening the detectives shadowed Kennell and she had been pointed out as the woman who had been with Kennell. It was after that the stop had been made at the Dasher home.

Mrs. Kennell said that after what she saw that night she refused to live with Kennell. His actions had become very cold toward her for several months prior. He had only taken her twice to the movies during their married life and she never went out socially with him. He never remained at home in the evenings and even when she had company he went out evenings.

Miss Minna Dasher called in rebuttal said she had met Kennell through Jimmie McCabe. Twice he had met her on the street after work and asked her to ride along home. She never was out in the evening with him and was not with him on the trip to Kingston on October 15. She said she was at the church. Her pastor was called to corroborate her statement. He said she had been at church that evening and had not left until after 10 o'clock for home. He remembered the incident as it was the night before he had been called on the telephone by someone about some matter. He was not allowed to say what had been said or who said it.

At that point court adjourned until 10 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Invalid Girl Made

Playwright by Radio

San Francisco.—A shut-in mountain girl has become a playwright through the aid of radio.

Helen Norris, whose home is a ranch in the Rocky mountains of southern Oregon, where, due to the effects of an attack of infantile paralysis, she spends much of her time in a chair, has written what has been described by critics as a worth-while play exclusively for radio presentation. The play is called "Just Plain."

Helen was born in Portland, Maine, in 1901, and when eight years of age the mauls left her a cripple. In 1913 she came to a Medford (Ore.) ranch. There she began her schooling, being carried back and forth by her brother Bob. After attending high school for a time she enrolled in the University of Oregon extension course.

In the evenings, with her lessons over, she depends upon the radio for entertainment. It was while listening in with her dog as her companion that the inspiration came for an original radio drama that would appeal to all types of fans.

Furniture Now Sold

on "Ensemble" Basis

New York.—Furniture salesmen are learning the art of "ensemble selling."

The customer is persuaded to consider not only the appearance and style of the articles he or she intends to buy, but to view them in their relation to articles already owned and as units of the entire scheme of interior decoration in the home.

The salesmen are taught to exhibit the wares only in groups which include the accessories as well as the necessities. Thus a shopper who wishes to look at a floor lamp sees also the accompanying rug, chair and other accessories. Having seen the ensemble it is believed the customer naturally will desire the whole instead of the part.

Such a sales art, however, must have a background. Consequently salesmen are tutored in such subjects as the history of ancient, medieval and modern art in painting and sculpture, or queens' furniture from Anne to Victoria and of the periods.

Risko Wins Dull Affair

Sharkey New Stand Out as Favorite Challenger for Heavyweight Title—Sharkey Was Unable to Knock Left Hook.

New York, March 13 (A).—What ever "logic" there was in Tex Rickard's campaign to produce a logical contender for Gene Tunney's title was swept out of Madison Square Garden today by the cleaners, along with whatever hopes Jack Sharkey had of some time ruling the crowning heights of pugilism.

Theoretically, Johnny Risko, the pucky Austrian pretzel wrestler of Cleveland, stands out today as the foremost challenger for the title of the big marine won and defended in two vicious battles with the old man mauler of Manassas, Jack Dempsey. Almost on a par with Risko stands "Honest Tom" Heeney, the plugging blacksmith of New Zealand.

But there isn't an ounce of the "color" the promoting impresario has searched for so industriously in either Risko or Heeney. The baker boy whipped Jack Sharkey decisively in 15 rounds last night in mixing before the smallest crowd that ever saw an important heavyweight match here. Heeney did little better than a draw when he won a decision over Jack Delaney in the first of the elimination semi-finals on March 1.

Just as Heeney's victory was a tame, colorless exhibition of what patient and painstaking endeavor, coupled with an iron constitution can do to what little glamour Rickard had left in the round robin, so was Risko's victory over Sharkey a most uninteresting brawl that merely dragged everybody concerned into mediocrity.

Nevertheless, Risko and Heeney stand today as the survivors of the journey, hailed far and wide as the last ditch effort to uncover Tunney's June foe. But the real sufferer appeared to be the promoter himself, who left the Garden last night with the boss of the discouraged fans drumming in his ears while his mind revolved to a $1,000,000 contract he holds with Tunney for his next title defense. For there appeared little probability that the crowd of 10,000 who paid but $100,000 to see the doughnut-maker knock Sharkey out of shape would appear in sufficient quantities to watch either Risko or Heeney do battle with the champion.

From the opening round the round shock absorber, a veritable balloon tire of a man, leaped and plunged into Sharkey, belaboring him constantly with a left hook to the body that curled up from his heels. The Boston salldorman boxed his rival and still the left hook loomed out from nowhere to smack into its mark. Sharkey worked in close to evade the punch, grabbed the left arm, nailed both elbows to his ribs and tried every defensive trick of the game, but still the left hooking went on.

In the end that left hook, the sole real offensive threat Risko carried, won nine of the fifteen rounds. The short right flush to the heart, Sharkey's best punch, coupled with a left hook of his own, won six heats for the Boston man, who just a year ago was considered the greatest of the younger heavyweights.

Salt in Hudson River

There might be a slight indication of salt in the Hudson river as far up as Troy. However, this varies with floods. In case of floods the sea water is pushed back and the salt water does not go very far up. Without floods, however, the water is brackish as far up as Troy.

Giants May Get Better Pitching

Jacksonville, Fla., March 12 (AP).—There seems to be some basis for the belief that the New York Giants are going to get better pitching this year than they did last.

Doc Cantwell and Tiny Chaplin, good the Jacksonville, Southeastern league club, batters on their heads yesterday and shut out the natives, four to nothing, allowing only five runs between them. It marked the second of the three exhibition games the Giants have played in which the opposition failed to score a run.

If the rest of the rookies can do as well it seems John McGraw is going to have a tough time deciding who of his hurlers are to go into the picks for further seasoning. Bill Terry got three hits yesterday but was foolish enough to try to steal second base while one of his teammates still was occupying it.

YANKS DROP GAME TO FEROCIOUS BRAVES

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 12 (AP).—The New York Yankees were sorrowing today over a three to one trimming they took from the ferocious Braves of Boston yesterday but insisting at the same time that had jupe pluvius held off an inning or so they would have started off the exhibition schedule with a victory.

The game was halted in the sixth inning with three Yanks clattering the bases, one out and Buster Gehrig up—an interesting situation—but the Braves might point out that the "Buster" had been an easy victim on his first two trips to the plate, hitting into a double play, and that the whole of "Murderers' Row" got only two hits in all off Joe Genewich, Foster Edwards and Bunny Hearn.

Babe Ruth got one of the two hits despite the fact that a sunburned neck forced the "Bambino" to resort to a pink necktie for protection.

Normal Five Wins Game.

The New Paltz Normal School basketball team defeated the Cairo High School team, 59-45, at the Normal gym Friday night.

Wayland Dean Back in Minors

Louisville, Ky., March 12 (AP).—By a queer turn of fate Ed Holley, giant Kentucky pitcher, is to get an opportunity with the Chicago Cubs this year after a season in which he made the poorest record of his career, and Wayland Dean, one of baseball's bad boys, is coming back to Louisville to make a new start.

In winning only six games and losing 11 last year, Holley was buffeted by virtually every club in the American Association, but Manager Joe McCarthy, now of the Cubs but for several years leader of the Louisville Colonels, believes he can be converted into a winning pitcher. So Holley will get his first chance in the big leagues.

Back in 1922, the year after the Colonels had won a pennant, a half dozen youngsters were taken to the spring training camp at St. Petersburg, Fla. One was Earle Combs, of Owsley county, Ky. Another was Dean, just off the sand lots of Huntington, W. Va., and still another was Holley, who had ventured forth from Benton, Ky.

Dean vied with Combs for stardom and in the spring of 1924 Combs was sold to the Yankees and Dean became the property of the Giants, the Louisville club being enriched $100,000 through the deal.

With McGraw, Dean made an auspicious start and then began to slip. McGraw nursed him along for some time, but after he was alleged to have broken training frequently, Dean was sold to the Philadelphia Nationals. McCarthy, the man who developed the pitcher, obtained him last year through the waiver route. Dean did not achieve any degree of success with Chicago and finally jumped the club toward the end of the season.

Combs became one of the mainstays of the Yankees' outfield. During all this time, Holley has experienced "ups and downs" with Louisville. For a time he gave promise of becoming a greater pitcher than Dean and was reputed to possess the best fast ball in the association. In giving Dean to the Colonels for Holley, McCarthy agreed to return the latter by June 1 if he failed to make good.

Dean gives every indication of coming back to Louisville determined to stage a comeback. To Captain William Neal, vice president of the club, he has written:

"I want to start again and I'm smarter now. I began with Louisville before and I want to begin with Louisville again. I was down and almost out, but not quite. I'm smarter now. It will be different this time."

PIRATES TIED WITH DETROIT FOR THIRD PLACE

New York, March 12 (AP).—Fighting desperately for a place in the Stanley Cup playoff series, the Pittsburgh Pirates today were tied for third place in the American division of the National Hockey League.

A two to one victory over the Chicago Black Hawks last night put the Pirates in a deadlock with the Detroit Cougars for the last "money" position in their division. Each has 38 points. The Pirates' victory was scored when the referee gave them their winning goal after Gardiner, Black Hawk goalie, threw his stick at the puck in the final session.

Has Undergone Change
The name "Good Friday" is probably a contraction of God's Friday.

INDIAN DOWNS POLE IN 30 SECONDS

Bombay thousands cheered their Indian countryman, Gama (at right), huge Punjabi wrestler, as he dramatically tossed the veteran Zhyarko to the mat in less than a minute of action. Insert shows Gama with the trophy he won for the sensational victory.

MASTER OF THEM ALL

Here is the first photo of "Ty" Cobb getting in trim for another season. How does the old boy look to you? He is training with the New York "Giants" in Georgia to be near his "home cooking."

Charlie Grimm Light-Hearted

BACK in 1910 Connie Mack beckoned with his long, lean forefinger and called a rookie by the name of Grimm from out of the western bush to play first base for him. The lean leader did not give the lean rookie any trial at all. He just farmed him out a couple of years and he caught on with Durham of the Carolina league. But he played so well there that he was signed by the St. Louis Nationals in 1918. He fielded well enough for the Cards, but his hitting was so light (.220) that he was promptly released to Little Rock. His fielding flashed across the Southern league circuit and a year and a half later he was sold to the Pirates for the reported price of $3,500.

For five years Grimm played first base for Drexel, and always fielded brilliantly and batted lightly except in 1923, when he hit for .345. Really, his fielding was so fine that it balanced his light hitting. Grimm was light-hearted and gay, thus belying his name. It has been said often that he laughed the Pirates out of a pennant in 1924. Be that as it may, he was traded the next winter to Chicago in the deal that brought Nelhaus and Grantham to Pittsburgh. The change set the merry first baseman to thinking and he settled down and played all he knew for the Cubs. And he knew a lot.

A finished first baseman is Grimm. Never quite up to the Chase or Kelly standard, but a whale of a fellow around the first sack. Fast, graceful, supple, sure, he has always ranked one-two-three in his league. Last season he hit for the most respectable mark of .311, and he did a lot of timely hitting for the Cubs in the midsummer pennant drive. McCarthy counts on Grimm as the lone veteran to steady his infield this year. Grimm was born in St. Louis twenty-nine years ago.

Charlie Grimm.

Houses Grow With Each Fight

AFTER every heavyweight championship fight since 1921, with exception of the affair at Shelby, Mont., we have been informed that we have seen the last and greatest of such spectacles.

"This is the peak. Tex Rickard never can hope to outdo this," men said after the gate receipts incidental to the crushing of Georges Carpentier at Jersey City had been announced as more than $1,000,000.

"People may have been enticed out this time, but never again," we heard after the huge, hairy Firpo had been dragged to his corner at the conclusion of the second "more-than-a-million" spectacle.

After Philadelphia it was the same old story. "This" they told us, "is the last. People came out here and were stung and then half drowned. No fight will be worth more money than this one."

Before and after the Chicago fight between Gene Tunney and Jack Dempsey, it was maintained that the ultimate in fiscal spectacles had been attained. "There must be a limit, and this is it," said those who knew (or thought they knew) the capacity of the American public for pecuniary punishment where pugilism was concerned.

Now the chances are that there will be a heavy-weight championship fight during the first fortnight of September, of this year, somewhere in the vicinity of New York city, and that it will be witnessed by more spectators than were in Soldiers' Field last year, and enriching Tex Rickard, Gene Tunney and another boxer by sums exceeding those gleaned from the public at Chicago.

Tex Rickard.

'Baby Face' Bandit Dies in Chair

Boston, Mar. 13 (AP).—Herbert J. Gleason, known as "Baby Face" bandit, walked to the death chair in Charlestown state prison kissing a crucifix early today to pay with his life for the murder of James A. Monagle, Medford storekeeper, during a holdup.

A short time before the hour set for the execution, Gleason wrote a brief statement which was delivered to the prison chaplain with instructions to make it public after the prisoner's death. It read:

"For my mother's sake I had hoped my sentence would be commuted to life imprisonment. I am ready to die and die asking forgiveness of all whom I may have injured. I am thankful to all who aided me and especially my attorney, John W. Connolly, Sheriff Fairbairn and the prison officials."

The crime for which Gleason died was committed in November 1926. He and two other youths entered Monagle's store and ordered him to hold up his hands. Monagle resisted and hurled a meat cleaver at Gleason, whereupon Gleason shot and killed the storekeeper. All three escaped at the time but Gleason was arrested a few days later at Farmington, Maine and soon after confessed his crime.

LAST NIGHT on the RADIO

Was there any DX reception Monday night? If there was, it successfully eluded Ye Listener. But the Big Three were good enough for anyone not a hopeless dial twisting DX hound. WGY was especially good and the hour it gave to a program by Geoffrey O'Hara was a real treat, informing as well as entertaining. O'Hara was there in person, singing, playing and telling about some of his compositions, though he neither affirmed nor denied the announcer's statement that "Give a Man a Horse He Can Ride" was dedicated to the Prince of Wales. O'Hara's rendition of "Katy" in imitation of everything from a harp to a callopie and in every manner from that of Chopin's funeral march to jazzy dance time, was most amusing.

The General Motors Family Party was also a perfect demonstration of what radio should be.

PLATTEKILL GRANGE MEETING LARGELY ATTENDED.

The regular meeting of Plattekill Grange was held on Saturday evening with the roll call again passing the 100 mark. Petitions were formulated and put in circulation protesting against the proposed plan of merging the three rural delivery mail routes from Walkkill into two routes. The Grange urges every one interested to send a letter of protest to Congressman Harcourt J. Pratt, Washington, D. C.

The program consisted of an observance of "The Wearing of the Green." The program committee in costume gave an entertainment of Irish songs, jokes and jigs for the amusement of all. The refreshment committee served fruit jello, doughnuts, cakes and coffee.

A social dance will be held on Friday evening, March 16 with the Home Economics committee in charge. Booth's orchestra of Walden will furnish the music. The next meeting will be held on March 24, with the following committees in charge: Program, "Long Long Ago," Mr. and Mrs. William Nabor, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Everett, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Radiker, Mrs. George Fowler; refreshment—Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Eckert, Mr. and Mrs. George Sherwood, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Newkirk, Halsey Sherwood, Edgar Kamp, John Hammerick, Edward Humphrey, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Dubois.

CENTRAL HUDSON GAS HOME SERVICE CLASSES

"Making the Most of Winter Fruits and Vegetables" will be the subject for the Home Service Classes of the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation this evening at 7:30 and Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 in the Home Service Auditorium at 5 Field Court. Fruit and vegetables contain some food constituents that are very necessary in promoting health and in the preventing of diseases so instead of the old fashioned "Spring Tonic" Miss N. Davenport is preparing to demonstrate some interesting variations of the common winter vegetables, dishes that will tempt the appetite of the most fastidious and make the spring tonic unnecessary. Cauliflower is a creeper, Spanish lima, parsnip, sorrel, Southern with orange sauce, fruit salads, orange custards and fruit puddings are some of the recipes that will be discussed and prepared. All the ladies are cordially invited to attend these classes which are given free of charge.

Not to deny that wrong and sorrow have been, are and will be, till time shall be no more, but admitting them, to try with our whole might to rise above them, to turn our faces to the East, and look for the rising sun, with patience and a steadfast hope, remembering that there is always a tomorrow.—Anon.

SERVING OF FOODS

YOU hear the housewife quite frequently remark that when she serves her family with good wholesome food it is quite sufficient, without wasting time on garnishes and frills, which do not add to the food value. Let us think a moment about that. Is not the food value enhanced by a happy arrangement of food? Does it not appeal to the eye and palate? The ordinary everyday food which we tire of so often served in the same way daily, with a little furbishing, makes an appeal to the taste.

The appearance of a table and the food upon it add wonderfully, not only in point of esthetic taste, but as to digestive results as well, for we digest and assimilate more readily the food which pleases us as to its looks.

An ordinary pastry bag or tube will do wonders in food decoration. A bit of whipped cream piped on a dessert or salad, or a birthday cake will make it something in a class by itself.

One who has never had a beautiful birthday cake, has missed much. With a pastry tube one may save some of the foundation frosting with which the cake has been covered, tint it and with the tube or bag, pipe a doted rim around the cake or decorate with small pink roses. It is a very simple matter and takes but little practice to make quite beautiful things.

A good cream whip is one of the indispensable. If one has a large family and needs a large one, it is an economy to buy that kind. But there are small egg beater-sizes which will beat a half cupful of cream.

If one has a small family the individual casseroles are most convenient. A small dish of leftover food will be enjoyed and eaten from such a dish when it would otherwise be refused.

We should all be particularly careful of the little niceties of table etiquette, for with the young habits are formed which will make them agreeable companions or otherwise.

Uncommon Sense

By John Blake

ON GETTING UP EARLY

I ONCE roomed with a man who thought it was a virtue to get up early in the morning.

He did not get up early himself. But he thought he ought to.

Both of us had jobs that kept us at work late at night. The only opportunity for sleep we had was in the morning. I always made the most of that opportunity.

But my friend always felt guilty if he remained in bed after ten o'clock, no matter how late he had worked the night before.

He thought there was an intrinsic worth in getting out of bed at a certain hour.

Whether or not he utilized the time thus "saved" from his sleep to good advantage made no difference. On the rare occasions when he did leave his bed early he did not spend the extra hours in hard work.

As likely as not they would be frittered away in pointless inaction.

Getting up early, for instance, enables many people to acquire knowledge or culture that is useful to them. But the person who arises at the crack of dawn and then wastes his time gains nothing but loss of sleep.

Some persons make a point of arriving at their offices earlier than they are required to. Then they adopt a reproachful attitude toward the other workers who merely arrive on time.

But unless the early bird spends his extra time catching the worm, what possible advantage can he have over the birds who arrive later?

The fact is that these reproachful ones would really like to do the things they profess to frown upon. They would like to lie in bed late in the morning and play hooky from church occasionally.

They do not realize that merely arising before seven or being unwillingly present at Sunday worship constitutes no great virtue. Unless they get real benefit from these acts, as thousands do, why should they continue to perform them?

Unwilling rectitude is certainly hypocritical. But hypocrisy itself is regarded as a sin.

It must be conceded, however, that the reproachful ones have the edge on many of us frank offenders. That better-than-thou attitude which they usually acquire must give them a very gratifying sense of superiority to the rest of mankind. (Copyright.)

Los Angeles Aqueduct Breaks

Today for the scene of the St. Francis dam disaster with 1,600 Los Angeles policemen who will assist in relief work.

The 19th Regiment, California National Guard, stationed here, was ordered to stand ready to go into the stricken area.

145 Employees Perish.
Newhall, Cal., March 13 (AP).—The Los Angeles water and power bureau office here received a report that 145 employees of the bureau camp at Kemp had perished. One man alone survived.

Between 200 and 500 Trapped.
Los Angeles, Mar. 13 (AP).—An earthquake today turned the famous Los Angeles aqueduct into a giant of destruction, leaving a death toll estimated at 200 to 500 persons and uncounted property damage, when it broke the St. Francis Dam in San Francisco Canyon, 15 miles north of here, and sent a wall of water down upon a sleeping community.

The dam, a part of the aqueduct system which carries water 200 miles through the desert to Los Angeles, gave way without warning, releasing 100,000 feet of water—1,344,000,000 gallons—upon an unsuspecting mountain residence and ranching community.

An unknown number of persons, probably between 200 and 500, apparently were trapped between the canyon walls. They included about 20 families who made their homes below the dam; 9 working camps of 75 employees of the Southern California Edison Company, and a group of employees at a power substation in the path of the deluge. Sheriff's officers said there was no chance of escape for the vast majority of these.

The dam, 185 feet high, impounded the waters of San Francisco creek, forming a storage body five miles long and the full width of the canyon.

Only five persons in the canyon were known to have been rescued when officers arrived at the scene.

The break, which occurred about 1 a. m., unleashed the flood and in three hours it was more than 20 miles down the valley. Three bodies, all unidentified, were soon recovered.

Red Cross Workers Rush.
Red Cross workers were rushed to the scene but their efforts were regarded by the sheriff's officers as useless. William Bright, in charge of the sheriff's rescue squad, declared there would be little use for relief work, as he felt virtually all the people of the canyon had perished.

Bright recruited between 500 and 600 men and deputized them to preserve order and search for bodies in the stricken area.

Rodeo Ranch Hard Hit.
Among the places hit was the rodeo ranch of Harry Carey, film cowboy. It was in the direct path of the wall of water and several families living there were believed to have perished.

Five persons who came through the ordeal by joining hands, forming a human chain and being carried to safety by the water, giant after it had taken them from their beds, were the only survivors reported in first advices. They included B. W. Hunick, his father, Charles, another rancher named Holschauer, and his wife and father. All lived a mile north of Saugus.

A 12 year old girl and boy were reported to have been swept away at the Holschauer place. Hunick reported his uncle and sister missing.

Cuts Power Line.
Once out of the canyon the flood spread out between the sloping banks of the Santa Paula river, which held the column. It cut a power line of the Southern California Edison Company running into Santa Barbara, washed out a Southern Pacific branch line, and bored down upon the lemon belt at the town of Santa Paula. Below there fear was expressed that it might strike the oil fields at Ventura. At one point the water was reported to have formed a wall 75 feet higher. This was in the neighborhood of the

River Towing as Far as Newburgh

First Tow of Icebound Newburgh From New York City—If Present Weather Conditions Prevail Towing Will Soon Start From Here.

The ideal spring weather of Monday and today is gradually wearing the ice fields in the Hudson river, and if present weather conditions prevail towing between this port and New York city will likely start some time next week. The first tow of the season from New York arrived at Newburgh this morning. The river is practically open.

The ice above Kingston Point appears to be holding fast but it is very soft and will soon break up unless there is a sudden drop in the temperature.

Between this city and Poughkeepsie the Central Hudson Line boats have an open channel and are making regular daily trips.

The spring weather is rapidly melting the eleven inches of snow that fell Friday and Saturday and it is rapidly disappearing from the streets under the warm rays of the sun.

The ferry transport has been running all winter and is experiencing no difficulty in running close to its schedule.

HINCHCLIFFE HOPS OFF. DESTINATION UNKNOWN.

London, Mar. 13 (AP).—With sufficient fuel for a 2,000 mile journey, Captain Walter G. R. Hinchcliffe, accompanied by Captain Gordon Sinclair, unexpectedly "hopped off" today in his American built plane "Adventure" for an unannounced destination.

A westerly wind was blowing at Cranwell Airfield and after a long run over the icy field the heavy machine rose steadily and disappeared in a westerly direction.

There was much speculation in aviation circles as to the flier's intentions, with stress laid on the possibility that he had embarked on a scheduled nonstop flight to India. It was thought by some, including Mrs. Hinchcliffe, that he merely was transferring to another airfield, possibly in Ireland.

In reply to reports last week that he was about to start on a flight to the United States, Hinchcliffe said that he would attempt such a trip in May or June but first would make a long test flight to India, possibly within three weeks.

Dewey Van Buren to Fight.
Dewey Van Buren will meet Phil Moser in a four round scrap at the card of armory bouts to be staged here on Friday night, March 23. Roy Van Buren, the former's brother, is not expected to fight on March 23.

Window Plants

Never water window plants unless the soil looks dry. Then put enough water on them to wet the soil thoroughly. Too much water will quickly rot house plants.

Artichoke Fed to Cattle

The artichoke is most extensively grown in France, where about 300,000 acres are planted annually. The tubers there are used for feeding cattle and sheep.

Carey ranch, on which about 100 persons lived.

Once out of the little valley where it wrought so much damage, the water took the course of the Santa Clara river to flow thirty miles to the Pacific ocean. Officials declared the damage along the Santa Clara would be enormous.

The dam was completed a little more than a year ago and was the second largest in the series of reservoirs of the city's huge water system.

New York, Mar. 13 (AP).—With speculation in pool specialties, the stock market today was a stock exchange authorities began an investigation into the reports of an alleged "technical corner" in radio.
"Bear" traders, thrown into a panic by the recent sensational advance in General Motors and Radio, hastened to cover their positions in other stocks, a score of which advanced 3 to 10 points, in tumultuous trading.
Total sales had crossed the 3,500,000 share mark at 1 p. m. with indications that the day's total would cross 4,000,000 shares for the first time in the history of the exchange.

Radio opened 2 1/2 points higher at 160, with a block of 25,000 shares, quickly sold down to 140, rallied to 150, slipped back to 145 and then crossed 150 again in the early afternoon on a tremendous turnover.
Blocks of 1,000 to 10,000 shares appeared on the tape at frequent intervals. Houston Oil jumped 9 points. American Linsaid 8 1/2. Johns
Manville 7 and Union Carbide, Case
Therapies, International Match preferred, General Asphalt, American Republics and Warren Brothers climbed 3 to 5 points, which had sold down more than 3 points in the morning, had made up its loss in the early afternoon.
Railroad shares assumed increasing importance when a broad buying movement developed in some of the southwestern issues. Texas and Pacific climbed 4 points to a new high record for all time at 121 1/2.
Wabash advanced more than three points to within a small fraction of the year's high, and a dozen others, including New York Central, Southern Railway, Atchafalpa, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific, advanced a point or two.

WILLS SCOT AN ENGLISHMAN AND THEN THE FIGHT WAS ON

Published Taken to Hospital Where Broken Nose and Other Things Were Care For.

—Once there were two men sitting in a restaurant. One was from Renfrew, the other from some place else, probably Aberdeen. To the other, the Renfrew Scot said: "Where are ye frae, lad?"

"Aye frae Scotland," was the reply.

"Glasgow tell me that," said the Renfrew man. "Ye're nothin' but a pair of legs."

and that was how the fight started. The Renfrew man, victor in the contest, was folding his tent, preparing to leave when the police arrived on the scene. "Come back here!" shouted the policeman. "Come and catch me," was the reply.

The policeman lost considerable ground before he gave up the chase. He returned to the scene of the fight and had the victim transferred to the hospital, where a broken nose and other little things were attended to. In the restaurant where the discussion preceded the battle had taken place, the Renfrew man's overcoat, showing his Scotch, the wily policeman took the coat to the station and arrested developments.

Sure enough, in due time, Sam Leitch, formerly of Renfrewshire, put an appearance.

"I'm looking for ma coat," he told the attendant. "And we're looking for you," was the reply. Charles Leitch, the injured and injured party, gave evidence in early court concerning the fracas. Leitch apologized profusely. "If I'd known I was a Scot," he told the magistrate. "I would a' bit off ma tongue afore I'd a' called him an Englishman." He was fined $10 for being disorderly on the street.

Artificial Ligaments Cure for Club Feet

Munich, Germany.—Artificial ligaments and tendons of silk for club feet and other deformities and for the curing muscular paralysis, have been employed by Prof. Fritz Lange, chief surgeon of the Munich Orthopedic Hospital.

Professor Lange has published in a German medical journal the operative method by which such silk ligaments are implanted in the ends of muscles. Originally the silk ligaments are intended only as a palliative measure on the assumption that in the even the most durable silk fabric will be worn through by the continuous friction to which it is subjected. To the surgeons' surprise, Professor Lange says, it was found that in many cases within a year tendon tissue began to form and grow around the silk ligament and gradually to resume the function of a normal tendon.

Chinese Still Ship Their Dead to Orient

San Francisco.—Establishment of a republican government in China and the gradual westernization of the race here and elsewhere has not affected the age-old desire of the Oriental to have his bones rest finally in the soil of the mother country.

The next general shipment from the United States will not be made for several years yet but advance consignments already are being assembled from various parts of America. Bodies of many of the wealthy Chinese are shipped immediately after death but those of moderate means are buried here, and about every ten years are disinterred and taken to China in a special ship, financed cooperatively.

Sentenced as Killer of Man Who Didn't Die

Saltersville, Ky.—A man has just been released from jail here who was serving a sentence for a killing that never occurred.

Ben McCarthy, a mountaineer, obtained his freedom under a writ of habeas corpus. According to the judgment under which he was serving, he was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary for manslaughter. The person who was shot, however, recovered from the wound, apparently without knowledge of the officials. Therefore, McCarthy was in the position of serving a sentence growing out of the death of a person who had never died. It is believed nothing further will be done to punish McCarthy for the shooting, officials believing he has suffered enough.

Young Adolescent Fish Are Heavy Eaters

Washington.—Adolescent fish are heavy eaters. The Department of Commerce has stated the cost of material fed last year to baby fish in 242 national, state and private hatcheries, and it finds that the total is $261,023.

Young fish and breeding stock ate something like 3,000 tons of meat and fish. Beef liver was the favorite food, but 47 per cent of the total powder was made of fresh or salted fish flesh.

The bill for fish food in 1928 is said to be still higher, for Secretary Power and his fisheries experts are convinced that fish mature more successfully if kept longer in hatcheries and nurseries while young.

Diners Need Solitude

Of all pathetic human activities that of dining is most susceptible and properly conditioned in solitude. Those who miss appetite are suffering from a lack of concentration upon their meals. They have lost appreciation of aroma and of flavor by allowing competing sights and sounds to enter into the performance of a necessary which should partake of a religious austerity. If I ever set up as a physician I will read to serious work through the horrible ordeal of sitting at some long table in a health farm and dining amid the chatter of the incessantly red-blooded. — Heywood Brown, in Vanity Fair Magazine.

Famous Old Church

The Trinity church (Boston) corner stone was laid in 1734, as an outgrowth of King's chapel. The first building was of wood, 90 feet long and 60 feet broad, without any external ornament, neither tower, steeple nor window in the lower story of the front of the building. There were three entrances in front, with neither arch nor porch. The inside, in contrast with the exterior, was very handsome, the paintings and arches considered the finest in the city. It was supplanted by the granite structure in 1823, with a noble square tower. This was destroyed by fire in 1872 and rebuilt.

Overlooked One

Little Hester repeated to her mother the 23d Psalm. When she had finished she said: "Oh, I forgot one verse—about spilling the milk." Her mother was puzzled and curious. Again she repeated the Psalm and coming to the words, "My cup runneth over," triumphantly exclaimed, "That's it! That's the one I forgot." — Vancouver Province.

Pictures in Poor Home

Have Fabulous Value
Paris.—Sudden fortune has come to a modest widow and her children from two pictures of Rousseau, an artistically untrained customs employee, whose work recently has brought fabulous prices.

Albert Bois never told where he got the pictures but his family, through the habit of always seeing them in the dining room, became attached to them. When a stranger offered to buy the canvases, after the death of her husband several years ago, Mme. Bois refused but later when he offered $300, she sold them in a hurry. Reflection brought suspicion and she learned the purchaser was one of the big art dealers.

A long court wrangle, just ended, restored the pictures to the widow and soon they are to be sold, but meantime they have been appraised as worth about $3,000 or $10,000 each.

1,500 Rise in Motor Death Toll for 1927

Chicago.—Automobile fatalities in the United States last year increased more than 1,500 over 1926, the National Safety council estimates from partial reports of cities and states. Deaths charged to automobiles in 1926 aggregated 23,500. Philadelphia, Cleveland, St. Louis and Boston reported fewer deaths. Chicago, Detroit, and Los Angeles show increases. New York city is not mentioned.

Massachusetts reports a reduction over 1926. All cities in that state over 100,000 population, with the exception of Cambridge, show decreases. Kansas City, Minneapolis and Rochester, N. Y., indicated fewer motor deaths, and Louisville, Newark and New Orleans had increases. Connecticut, New York, Rhode Island and Texas show death increases. In New York the death list jumped from 2,155 in 1926 to 2,422 last year.
